The HEYM "EXPRESS" is the most well-designed and well-built big-bore bolt action available today. HEYM goes to great lengths to ensure 100% reliability. No other maker builds cartridge-specific actions and cartridge-specific magazine boxes. Leaving no detail to chance, HEYM even manufactures its own barrels in-house, as well as all of the small parts for the "Express" rifles. Reminiscent of best-grade English sporting rifles made "between the wars", the "Express" rifle (with the stock and profile of the rifle redesigned by German-born, custom rifle builder Ralf Martini) is a modern version of a classic design made with all the advantages of 21st century steel and CNC precision.
