Questions & Answers

Your specs refers to "CDS Dials" for specific ballistics. I am shooting a Remington 700 .243 + Hornady Whitetail ammo 100 gr. Which dial?

The CDS System works by laser-inscribing your scope's elevation dial to match your load, velocity and conditions.

The scope will come with a coupon/instructions on how to get your free custom dial from Leupold

See 1 More Answer

Why no mention of CDS dial in the lead description? Does it have it?

The Leupold VX-5HD 3-15x44mm Rifle Scope is compatible with the CDS turrets. The Leupold VX-5HD 3-15x44mm Rifle Scopes come with an MOA or MIL turret. Once you determine the ammo you will be shooting through your rifle you can contact Leupold in order to order your CDS turret.

Customer Reviews

Mmmm, Quality. 4.9 rating (11). This scope was as expected. Phenomenal. Picked it up for a recently finished lightweight AR. Paired it with an Aero P. mount, rock solid without deadweight. Love the optical quality/clarity. Zeroed at 100yds without issue. Only worked it out to 20...

Helpful Positive Review. Leupold VX-5HD 3-15x44 Rifle scope. 4.9 rating (5). by Daniel, January 25, 2022. This scope actually works exactly as advertised. Mounted on a Weatherby ultralight 300 Wby Mag. Loaded Barnes 175gr LRX bullets to 3300fps, gave the necessary data to Leupold and received the custom elevation dial at no cost. Lighted the rifle in at...

Helpful Positive Review. Impressive, light weight optic. 4.9 rating (5). by Wootstahlog, July 14, 2017. After an exhaustive search, I chose this optic to top out a DDSV1. I got the fire dot reticle (model 172368) and couldn't be happier. At 3x it works well enough to be used as a red dot. Typical Leupold quality and clarity. One of the main deciding...
