Great product
Posted by Mike S. on 9th May 2023

I have used my friends Rugged Gear carts before and decided to order one for myself. Very nice and well made. Solid tires as well as secure gun racks with lots of shells and 4 target shotguns with excellent upright stability and super good access to all of it. Our range is a semi improved walking path covering a lot of uneven ground and varying finishes. Gravel, dirt, grass, and acorns make up the several miles of course paths. The cart ate it all, never showing me any stability or hard to push issues. All good for load carrying capabilities. The Rear pockets and gear bag in the nose are very very useful. Both the Stow and deployment functions are excellent. It is not like some folding gear Where you hold your lip just right and visualize success Do yourself a favor. If you are looking for a high quality, well thought out and joyful to use shooting cart, make life easy and just bite the bullet for one these Rugged units. You will be pleased. Well done Rugged Gear. Glenn Evans.

A huge step up from homemade.
Posted by Cholla on 24th Nov 2020

After struggling for years with a homemade wooden gun cart I decided to pull the trigger on a Rugged Gear gun cart. I had seen them at shoots and they looked easy to use. They are. They are easy to push, easy to steer, easy to load and unload from a vehicle, and easy to stow gun and gear in. The difference between my old cart and the new RG cart is night and day. Yes, they cost a lot, but your body will thank you.

Great product!
Posted by Mark W. on 11th Nov 2020

Ordered this cart in lieu of a golf cart or Polaris Ranger ($$$!) and I'm happy I did so. Received it quickly, had it put together in a snap and took it out on the Sporting Clays course today with three friends. The cart easily mounted our four shotguns, ammo, snacks and water, carried everything around with ease and looked good doing it.

Great cart. Very smooth and easy to push on the course. Lots of storage spaced. Easy to put together as it came virtually ready to go.

Well designed and built
Posted by Glenn on 22nd Jun 2020

As a design engineer, I am well aware of just how bad a 1/2 worked out product can be. This product brings it all. The cart is built extremely well with top flight materials throughout. It is built like a Russian Sledge hammer, but with the refinements of something American. On the first outing with the cart, I packed 48 boxes of shells and 4 target shotguns with excellent upright stability and super good access to all of it. Our range is a semi improved walking path covering a lot of uneven ground and varying finishes. Gravel, dirt, grass, and acorns make up the several miles of course paths. The cart ate it all, never showing me any stability or hard to push issues. All good for load carrying capabilities. The Rear pockets and gear bag in the nose are very very useful. Both the Stow and deployment functions are excellent. It is not like some folding gear Where you hold your lip just right and visualize success Do yourself a favor. SASS and Sporting Clays
Posted by Bill Munny on 13th Mar 2020

Built my own carts for 20 yrs while shooting SASS. Then started shooting Clays about 1 yr ago, tired of lugging around the old SASS cart and it did not hold the 4 long guns, ammo and stuff needed for my wife, grandkids and me. Got this 4 gun cart, fits all our stuff and we have a lot. 2 20 gauge and 2 12 gauge shotguns and at least 16 boxes of ammo, drink, place to store our extra shirts (colorado) and all the hulls (I reload all our ammo). Cannot go wrong with this 4 gun cart. What is another $500 when you put $4000 into just one gun? Get the best or continue to wish.

Great Gun Cart
Posted by East Clintwood - SASS on 10th Dec 2018

Sturdy and well built. Ability to fold-down for quick storage in the back of your car a big plus. I ordered the four-gun shooting cart and I am very happy with it. Lot's of compartments to store those things you always forget and it is easy to get around. I highly recommend this cart.

High Quality 4 Gun Cart
Posted by Dave -- North Jersey on 14th Nov 2018

Very happy with the quality on this 4 gun cart. Sturdy and well thought out design. No Flat Tires, were a key factor in my search for the best "Sporting Clays" cart that I could get. Classic Upland has a homerun here with this cart. A little more expensive, but worth it!!!
