Superior Quality Lenses
Multi-coated lenses provide superior clarity and light transmitting capabilities with zero distortion

Aircraft-Grade Aluminum Housing
All-weather rugged construction protects against the toughest elements

Zero Forward Emission
The illuminated reticle doesn't project any illumination from the objective lens.

Waterproof
Dry-nitrogen filled to eliminate fogging and water proof to 10 feet

To use a riflescope with your firearm, you'll need a mounting base and mounting rings in addition to the scope itself. Bases attach to your firearm and rings attach to your scope. Proper spacing of the rings, as well as the ring height should be considered to ensure a proper line of sight can be established. This will maximize the value of your investment, and enhance your shooting experience. It should be noted that in many mounting applications, a professional gunsmith's skills will be needed for proper installation.
